Using Sydney's fully electronic toll roads

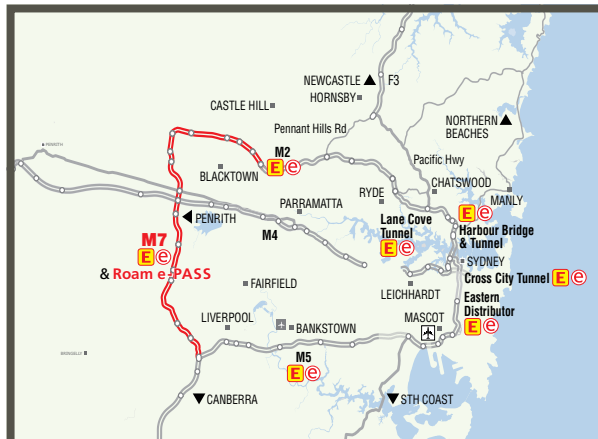

This brochure tells you about electronic tolling and the options available to pay the tolls.

Fully electronic toll roads have no toll plazas or cash booths to slow you down – just convenient, non-stop driving. With less traffic congestion and less stopping – you can get where you're going sooner.

Westlink M7, the Sydney Harbour Bridge, and the Sydney Harbour, Lane Cove and Cross City Tunnels are all fully electronic toll roads.

You need to get a tag or a pass before you travel or up to 48 hours after your first trip. Otherwise you may receive a violation notice to pay the toll plus a fee. If you don't pay the toll and fee you risk receiving a fine that exceeds $100.

The map below shows Sydney's motorway network, and where you can use your tag or Visitor's e-PASS.
